ARTIST'S BLEND

Malt & Grain Blended Scotch Whisky

We believe it is time for the world to take a fresh look at Blended Scotch Whisky, and that is why we have created Great King Street Artist's Blend is a marriage of delicate Lowland grain and robust, complex Highland malt whiskies.

Great King Street - Artist's Blend

Five key things set apart our approach to making Great King Street from any other Blended Scotch Whisky brand:

- 1. Great Grain. First, we start with the very highest quality single grain Scotch whiskies which are the foundation of good Blended Scotch. We source ours from a renowned Lowland distillery, all aged in "first fill" American oak barrels, which makes the grain whisky much richer and sweeter on the palate.
- 2. More Malt. Secondly, we use a higher proportion of malt whisky than most other Blends. Artist's Blend consists of almost 50% malt whisky, far more than the approximately 30% that most blends use. This provides more character and complexity.
- 3. Better Oak. Every cask of whisky used to make Artist's Blend is of the highest quality: first-fill American oak casks, first-fill European oak ex-Sherry butts and new heavily-toasted French oak.
- 4. Bottled Naturally. Artist's Blend is bottled at its natural colour and without the chill filtration prior to bottling which most Scotch whiskies go through. This leaves the whisky full of its natural complexity and mouthfeel.
- 5. Traditional Strength. We bottle Artist's Blend at 43% alcohol by volume, a strength traditionally used in Scotland many years ago.

The Great King Street Range

By applying the same skill, techniques and philosophy that we use for the Compass Box Signature Range of whiskies, Great King Street offers a style and approach to Blended Scotch that has not existed before. Great King Street is a new and compelling alternative for both whisky enthusiasts who ordinarily drink only malt whiskies, and for whisky novices. All bottled at a natural colour and without chill-filtering. We call whiskies made with this approach 'craft blends'.
